Let's Build It: Incentives for Middle Housing Construction

10 to 11:30 a.m.

Wednesday, Sept. 29th, 2021

Whether duplex through quadplex, townhome, or cottage cluster, new housing types are coming to Oregon and our Metro region. After a half-century hiatus, Oregon cities are bringing “middle” housing back into residential neighborhoods as they respond to new state laws and the changing needs of our communities.

But how will this housing be built? Join Metro, the Home Builders Association of Metro Portland, and the Build Small Coalition to learn about various incentives and tools available for building and encouraging middle housing development at a variety of price points.

In this webinar, industry and policy experts will cover:

- Senate Bill 458 – Expedited Land Division for Middle Housing.
- Condominium Mapping Options for Middle Housing
- Middle Housing Construction Financial Products
- System Development Charge Deferral and Tax Abatement Incentives. .

Jason Snider serves as Mayor of the City of Tigard, a diverse community of over 54,000 people that has been at the vanguard of smart housing policy in Oregon.

He has been a champion for housing equity and access throughout his career in public service, from serving on the City Council in 2018 when it re-legalized middle housing to overseeing the adoption of the city's first Affordable Housing Plan as Tigard's Mayor.

Mayor Snider will introduce this webinar and share insights on how the city's policies will ensure that Tigard continues to move forward in its goals to house all its residents.
